On the auspicious occasion we come up with different activities to celebrate this special day. We had so much fun with our teachers and also they shared their personal experiences to us. A key event in a teacher's day celebration is performance. Different types of games and activities were organized. Students from the senior class dressed up as teachers. They are clad in beautiful sarees to match the personality of the teachers they are depicting.

Programs were organized by students of previous and final year students and hosted by Priya Vaishnav. To add to the fun element, teachers are made to play games in which each and every Professor had to choose a line in that a dialogue was written and they dare to say that dialogue in the same accent as it was delivered by our Bollywood heroes. It is a treat to see teachers playing these games with full enthusiasm.

Topic- Dual Nutritional Burden and Diabesity in Indians: Mechanistic and Molecular Aspects by Giriraj Ratan Chandak (MD, PhD, DNB Chief Scientist and Group Leader Centre for Cellular and Molecular Biology Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), Hyderabad, India)

ABSTRACT :

India is known as the Diabetic Capital of the World and also suffers from the rare distinction of being capital of Low Birth Weight (LBW) in the World. This double burden is likely to provide an interesting link that can be exploited to restrain the ever-exploding burden of type 2 diabetes, metabolic syndrome and its related complications.

CONTENT :-

On 16 December 2021, Dr. Giriraj Ratan Chandak discussed the advantages and limitations of genetic studies of type 2 diabetes, especially in Indians and presented data to advance suggestions that epigenetic regulation of key genes may underlie the fetal programming of Diabesity and thus may be an interesting strategy to rein the epidemic of type 2 diabetes in Indians and other developing countries.

He also answered and cleared the queries of students as well as of faculty members on the above.

OUTCOME -

We got insights about phenotypic differences in Indians and Europeans, better known as “Thin-Fat Phenotype”, characterized by less muscle mass and high fat percentage is present at birth that predicts future risk of cardiometabolic disorders and also understood the molecular mechanism of B 12 action and genes/pathways influenced by B 12 intervention, as a model of understanding molecular basis of Nutrient-mediated teratogenesis.

PARTICIPANTS – Students of M.Sc. Botany first and third semester.
